

My Constitution

Imagine that you are the founder of a new city. What would you name your city? Write a constitution for your city that reflects the rights you would like the inhabitants of your city to respect.

We the people . . .